1. According to information available to leaders of the Pro Paz movement in Venezuela, an attempt is being made by the persons charged with the arrangements for the American Continental Conference for Peace to have the meeting take place in Quito or Guatemala City. It is believed that Quito will probably be selected.
2. Roberto Alvarado Fuentes, Pro Paz leader in Guatemala, is said to have offered to arrange to have the conference in Guatemala City when the Brazilian authorities announced their ban on the meeting at Rio de Janeiro. Alvarado, who is said to be one of several candidates for a Communist sponsored peace prize, recently attended a Pro Paz meeting in Vienna. Carlos Augusto Leon, Venezuelan, is also a candidate for the same prize.
